

NINDS Intramural Training Programs

The NINDS Division of Intramural Research offers research opportunities to all levels of trainees, from high school students to postdoctoral fellows. Use the graphic above to identify your training level (green arrows on the bottom) and click the links in the blue boxes above to access training opportunities available to you.

For questions about NINDS training programs, please contact us at dirtraining@ninds.nih.gov.